

28. August - 1. September

Press Release 24. July 2019

Nominated Entries

Yesterday another milestone marked the exciting road to the FEI Eventing European Championships in Luhmühlen: the national federations declared their entries.

The national federations have already named riders and horses – but they were able to name twice or even trice as many starters as will actually be able to compete at Luhmühlen. Therefore, the next date to look forward to is Monday, 12th of August 2019, when the national federations will send the definite entries, with the finalized horse-rider combinations. As the hosting nation, Germany will be able to nominate twelve riders, the other federations will have to make do with six

The following seventeen nations have sent their entries for the Longines FEI Eventing European Championships:

- Austria
- Belgium
- Czech Republic
- Denmark
- Finland
- France
- Germany
- Great Britain
- Hungary
- Ireland
- Italy
- Netherlands
- Norway
- Poland
- Spain
- Sweden
- Switzerland

General Information

Luhmühlen has been holding three-day events for the past 60 years. In this time, there have been five European Championships 1975, 1979, 1987, 1999 and 2011, as well as World Equestrian Games in 1982. Again, the FEI chose Luhmühlen to host the European Championships in 2019. This means Luhmühlen has become one of the venues to host the most Championships worldwide. As the hosting nation, Germany is able to nominate twelve German competitors for the Championships.

Title partner for the Championships is Longines Watch Co. Francillion Ltd., St. Imier (Switzerland). Main partners are the Ostfriesische Tee Gesellschaft GmbH & Co. KG (Seevetal) Meßmer, COMFG Ltd., Wrexham (GBR) Charles Owen and LVM Versicherung, Münster.

The patronage for this event has been taken over by the president of the German Sports Federation Alfons Hoermann. Judges will be Martin Plewa (president), Anne-Mette Binder (DEN) und Peter Shaw (AUS). FEI Technical Delegate will be Gert Naber (NED).

Course designer cross-country is Mike Etherington-Smith (GBR) und course designer show-jumping is Marco Behrens.

The prize money is EUR 100.000,00 (EUR 70.000,00 for winning individually and EUR 30.000,00 for teams placed first to third).
